GFSI CONFERENCE

The GFSI Conference is the industry’s annual rendezvous for the advancement of food safety and consumer trust worldwide. Gathering over 1,000 leaders and decision-makers from 60 countries, it is your unique opportunity to:

STAY INFORMED.

The place to be to stay abreast of latest trends, legislations, challenges and solutions. Delegates learn about the latest advances in the science, technology and collaborative tools being leveraged for food safety around the world.

GAIN RECOGNITION FOR YOUR WORK.

So you’ve put in place a world-class food safety system or solution, measured results and grown your business. It’s only natural that now you’d like to tell the world about it. Best-practice sharing is what GFSI is all about.

REALISE YOU’RE NOT ALONE.

Delegates often cite the valuable exchanges they had with others facing the same challenges. They learn how others are managing food safety in different parts of the world - or in other parts of the supply chain.

GAIN VISIBILITY FOR YOUR BRAND.

After all, no one works in isolation and this might just be the place to show companies who are serious about food safety why your solution can help them get there.

LEARN FROM LEADERS.

Delegates hear from renowned experts and academics, CEOs, public authorities, industry leaders, innovators and grassroots players.

STRENGTHEN YOUR NETWORK.

Bringing +1,000 specialists and decision-makers under one roof is our job. Making the most of the conference week to form connections is yours!

WHAT DELEGATES SAY ABOUT THE GFSI CONFERENCE:

“A place where we can partner with other stakeholders because we know no one can do it alone.”

“A very good platform to meet people – not only from the food industry but also from academia, government and other stakeholders.”

“The conference where food safety professionals can get cutting edge solutions.”

“The place to be to meet people, to progress on the challenges we are facing and meet with our suppliers.”

“There are a lot of learnings I want to take back and share with my teammates!”

“I came to see how GFSI can be leveraged to provide more consistency in our supply chains, both in food safety practices and culture.”

“It’s fantastic to see that the issues we’ve identified as being critical are the same for the leaders in GFSI and our counterparts in industry!”
